Bring a Friend to School

You can help a friend realize the benefits of Catholic education and reap benefits yourself by participating in our “Bring a Friend to School” program. With this program, current OLV families can receive a tuition credit for bringing new families to the school and provide a tuition credit for new students brought into the school.

When you share the good news of Catholic education, you’ll be helping the school increase enrollment and defray the cost of tuition for the 2010-2011 school year both for you and your friend.

For each qualifying new single student family (preschool-grade 8) that enrolls in OLV for the 2010-2011 school year at the invitation of a current OLV school family, both the new and current OLV family will receive a $250 tuition credit. For new qualifying multi-student families that enroll in OLV for the 2010-2011 school year at the invitation of a current OLV family, both the new and current OLV family will receive a $250 tuition credit for the first student and $100 for each additional student.

To be eligible, here are some guidelines to keep in mind:

- New student family must identify the current OLV referring family that invited them to attend OLV School when they complete and return registration materials and fees.
- There can be only one current OLV referring family per new student family
- New student family must not have been enrolled in OLV during the previous school year.
- New student must meet all academic criteria required to attend OLV.
- Former students who were not enrolled during the preceding school year and reenroll as a new student must have been current with all tuition and fees at the time they left OLV
- Tuition credits will be issued to both your family and friend in December, 2010.
